These athletes have been recognized for reasons including overall improvement in rowing technique and fitness, coxing, successfully competing at national events and local regattas including helping out at such events and club functions. Emma G also received an award for coaching the girl's J16 to compete at Henley Women's Regatta in 2011.

They also choose how their award money is to be spent within the organization. This has included the refurbishment of specific racing and training boats, purchase of new matching racing shirts, purchase of a gazebo & barbeque for use at regattas & the club and representation at national and local events.

Junior leaders are also recognized – volunteer Maggie Phillips, coach, umpire and also responsible for this website, received an award for services to our junior club.
